FAUBUS WATCHES U.S. LEGAL MANEUVERS

INDICTED — Martha Dodd Stern and her husband, Alfred, shown with their son, Robert, 12, at a press conference in Prague, Czechoslovakia, have been indicted as agents of a Soviet spy ring. The Sterns were indicted on testimony by counter agent Boris Morros, who gave up his movie directing career for 12 years to spy on Russian agents. A federal grand jury in New York said the Sterns financed a music company which served as a "cover" for Soviet spies. The couple has renounced U. S. citizenship and claimed Paraguayan passports. They were last seen in Czechoslovakia in August.

Big Blast Rips School Apart

Nashville Explosion Wrecks 4 Classrooms

NASHVILLE, Tenn. — A massive, early morning dynamite blast ripped apart one of Nashville's six newly desegregated grammar schools today.

The blast blew out the entire east wall of one wing and completely wrecked four classrooms in the Hattie Cotton school, where a single Negro first-grader was admitted quietly Monday.

No Negroes had been expected to enroll in the predominantly white east Nashville school district and it was the only one of the six racially mixed schools that escaped without segregationist demonstrations.

The schools admitted a total of 15 Negro first-graders in their first step toward court-ordered desegregation. There are 3,500 first graders including 2,000 whites among the city's 18,000 school pupils.

The dynamite blast came only a few hours after police had dispersed a violent crowd of about 500 segregationists who were smashing windshields and windows of Negroes automobiles with bricks and bottles as they passed Fehr school.

Fehr, which is located in a borderline Negro-white residential district, was the focal point of much of Monday's disorders. Three persons were arrested in the day and night disturbances, including one woman who was arrested twice.

No injuries have been reported so far.

Police Sgt. John Irwin said he found a detonating cap wire at the scene. He said the dynamite apparently was exploded in the school's entrance hall between the library and a classroom.

The concussion ripped through the building, tearing down walls and blasting every window from the one-story structure.

Asst. Supt. W. H. Oliver had this comment immediately on learning of the blast: "This is no longer a matter of segregation or desegregation. This is a matter of sheer lawlessness. We're up against thugs. This is the result of a flame that has been fanned in Nashville by some local agitators and some outside agitators."

Oliver said early this morning a decision would be reached during the day on where classes would be held for Hattie Cotton pupils. He added it was doubtful such decision would come before school opening time.

Oliver added that so far as he could say, the blast would not affect the school board's desegregation plan or operations of the schools of a desegregated basis.

Although numerous dynamite explosions have accompanied desegregation disorders in various other Southern cities, it is believed that no schools had previously been damaged by them.

Speaker Cites City's Assets

Salem's Future Bright, Bolton Tells Chamber

"The economic future of Salem as a small community is nothing but bright," Oliver P. Bolton, former Ohio director of commerce, told approximately 100 members of the Chamber of Commerce at its monthly meeting held Monday noon in the Memorial building.

Bolton, also a former congressman, spoke on his experiences in Columbus as director of commerce and on the operation of the department.

He said he believed in the future of Salem as a small community because it had good transportation facilities, utilities, the desire for industrial expansion and the awareness to prepare for it all.

Bolton also pointed out that Salem has easy access to state turnpikes and is situated near such large Ohio counties as Summit, Stark and Mahoning, besides being near Pittsburgh, Pa.

Bolton said the economic future of Ohio is great because of its locale in the country, its governmental climate and the desire of the present administration to develop its potentialities and assets.

Bolton, publisher of newspapers in Willsborough, Parma and Dover, said Ohio ranks second in the country today in the value of goods produced. It is sixth in production of agricultural goods. Since 1940, the state has added one million jobs, he stated.

He said that of these 1,000,000 new jobs, 37 per cent of them were in manufacturing, 19 per cent in wholesale and retail trade, 16 to 17 in service industries, 10 in public utilities and six in agriculture.

Bolton said that since 1940, there has been a greater growth in the state in heavy industry than in small industry.

He pointed out, however, that Ohio has road burdens because of the topography of the land to the east, the vast amount of industry in the west and the fact that certain Ohio statutes prevent roads from being constructed through municipalities and villages without their permission.

The speaker said that the com-

Speed Limit Revised On Rt. 62 Sections

The Ohio Department of Highways has revised the speed limit for two sections of Rt. 62 in Columbiana County following a traffic-engineering study.

Affected by the revision are Rt. 62 through Damascus and a section of Rt. 62 west for one mile from the corporation limits of Salem.

The new limit for both sections is 45 miles per hour.

The previous limit through Damascus was 35 miles per hour and 40 for the section west of Salem.

School Board Accepts Bid on Street Project

Columbiana Firm To Extend 6th St. At Cost of $35,000

The Salem Board of Education Monday night voted to accept a bid from the Columbiana Paving and Contracting Co. to construct a street from present 6th St. eastward to N. Union Ave. at an estimated cost of $35,000.

The cost will depend on what small contract alternatives are included or omitted, Superintendent of Schools E. S. Kerr said.

The street will be 36 feet wide and will include curved curbs. It will have a nine-inch base covered with blacktop. The bid includes the grading and seeding of the berms of the street.

The Columbiana firm's bid was the lone bid received by the board. Selects Cafeteria Equipment

The board decided to use stainless steel gas ranges and ovens in the new high school cafeteria. Electric steam kettles, a steamer and fryers of stainless steel also will be purchased.

The board re-designated the First National Bank as depository for the school system's funds for a period of two years.

In other board action last evening, members voted to award continuing contracts to teachers Alton Allen, Fred Burchfield and Sam Priddy.

Mrs. Betty Paneyott was appointed as a teacher in Prospect School after teaching two years at McKinley School.

The board reached no decision on whether to sell a 10-foot-tract of its property on N. Lincoln Ave. to Plummer Diehl, owner of the Diehl-Exterminating Co. at 838 N. Lincoln Ave.

The board reported a delay on its proposed purchase of a tract of land from Cletus Paumier of 875 Homewood Ave.

Paumier owns property to the north of Buckeye School upon which the board wants to extend a road that would run north from 12th St. to 12th St. past the school.

Kerr explained that residents in the area west of N. Ellsworth Ave. near 13th St. want a road running south past the school. The board is currently waiting plans and specifications from the city engineer.

D. Clyde Wright, clerk of the works at the new high school, told the board that concrete floors are complete in the science and shop units of the school as well as in the boiler room of the administration unit.

Wright added that sub-floors for terrazzo have been laid in the science and shop units and in the corridor leading to the administration unit.

He said steel erection is 95 per cent complete for the whole building.

Outside brick work is complete on the science and shop units and is 60 per cent finished on the administration section. It has just been started on the gymnasium unit.

Metal roof sheathing has been laid on the science and shop units.

Rough plumbing is complete in these two units and is 60 per cent finished in the administration unit. The latter item includes water for heating. All manholes have been completed.

The electric conduit has been finished in the science and shop units and is 30 per cent complete in the administration unit, Wright continued.

Salineville Man Dies In Mishap

Auto Overtakes On Victim, Father of 4

Harold B. Adams, 49-year-old Salineville RD 1, coal miner, was killed Monday at 5:30 p.m. in a traffic accident on Ohio 164, the Salineville - Bergholz Road, about two and one-half miles north of Bergholz, the Wintersville state highway patrol reported.

Adams, the father of four children, entered a right curve too fast and lost control of the car, causing it to go off the right side of the highway, patrolmen said.

Patrolmen said Adams was thrown out of the car which overturned on him.

A native of Columbiana County, Adams was born Oct. 22, 1907, a son of Daniel and Mary Adams now of Summitville.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Ethel Adams; two daughters, Miss Barbara Adams and Miss Wanda Adams at home; two sons, Vernon and Leo at home, a stepdaughter, Mrs. Sue Short of Hanoverton, a stepson, John Bolen of Millport.

He also leaves four brothers, Howard Adams of Salineville, George and Irvin of Summitville and Charles of Youngstown; and three sisters, Mrs. Ida Wright of Niles, Mrs. Ruby Nase of Girard and Mrs. Elizabeth Nipp of Portsmouth; and one grandchild.

Services will be held Thursday afternoon at 2 at the Rev. Funeral Home at Salineville in charge of Rev. William Buell of the Methodist Church. Burial will be in Highlandtown Cemetery.

Press Demands Mobilization

Syrian Cabinet Called Into 'Urgent Session'

DAMASCUS — The Syrian Cabinet was summoned into an urgent session today as the nation's press demanded nationwide mobilization to meet what it called the threat of U. S. aggression.

Official sources said the purpose of the session was to study what they described as "U. S. anti-Syrian provocations" and to decide Syria's course of action against it.

The meeting was called on the heels of a Syrian charge that five U. S. warships steamed to the Syrian coast on Sunday.

Foreign Minister Salah Bitar told Syrian newspapers this country "will not be terrorized by U. S. military demonstrations or any American war of nerves against us."

"Neither military demonstrations or a U. S. war of nerves will make us deviate from our Arab liberation policy. On the contrary, these acts will certainly bolster our determination to adhere to our policy and defend it," Bitar said.

In Moscow, the Soviet army newspaper Red Star said Turkish and Israeli forces were moving toward Syrian borders. The paper, quoting unidentified press reports, also said U. S. military units had landed in Turkey to support what it called aggressive moves against Syria.

Meanwhile, Jordan's Foreign Minister Samir Rifai, told newsmen in Amman that Israel is a "far greater threat to Jordan than Syria."

Rifai made the statement in reply to a question whether Jordan was alarmed by recent developments in Syria.

The foreign minister said Jordan does not "feel justified at all in interfering in the internal affairs of Syria." But, he added, Jordan has been waging war against communism and "will continue to do so regardless of the direction from which it comes, internally or externally."

The charge that U. S. warships approached the Syrian coast was made by a Syrian army spokesman. He added that unidentified jet fighters flew over the Syrian port of Latakia Monday. He said Syria so far had made no protest to Washington.

In Washington, the U. S. Navy said none of its ships are operating close to the Syrian coast. A spokesman said the bulk of the U. S. 6th Fleet is in the Aegean Sea between Greece and Turkey—about 50 miles from the Syrian coast.

The American official said some U. S. destroyers might have been cruising in the eastern Mediterranean in recent days, but he asserted none had been in sight of the Syrian coast.

Syria's charge was linked with Secretary of State Dulles' statement Saturday. Dulles reported on a White House conference in which President Eisenhower urged the Syrian people to act to ease the fear of Communist-inspired attacks by Syria on its neighbors.

"No sooner was the Dulles statement on Syria announced," the Syrian spokesman said, "than provocative, irritative operations measures as to be used as a pre-

Troops Guard Governor In Official Mansion

Tension Mounting In Bitter Struggle Over Integration

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. — Gov. Orval Faubus, entrenched behind armed troops in his official mansion, watched the federal government's first legal moves today in the bitter struggle over integrating high schools in the Little Rock area.

Tension is building rapidly in the dramatic, fast-moving story. It centers at three points —

1. The federal courts where U. S. attorneys are preparing to ask an injunction, naming Faubus as one of the defendants, and restraining any further interference with the order to integrate.

2. North Little Rock High School where all available police were ordered to take up guard stations today.

3. Central High School in Little Rock, still surrounded by National Guardsmen under orders from Faubus to turn away and Negro students attempting to enter.

There are two key questions still to be answered—

Will the governor permit federal authorities to pass through the guards at the mansion and personally serve him with notice of the restraining order?

If he refuses, what action will the federal government take against him?

At a press conference in his Mansion, Faubus gave no indication of steps he may take when the injunction is issued.

"I have not received official notice of it and it will be a very important legal question," he said. "I'd like to see the official notice to see just what it involves."

Reporters asked what the troops guarding the mansion would do if federal marshals attempt to enter to serve the notice.

He said, "They have no instructions on that point."

But his first legal move was expected to be taken today.

President Eisenhower's vacation headquarters at Newport, R. I., today said the Justice Department will file a petition "some time this afternoon" for an injunction in the Little Rock case.

Press Secretary James C. Hagerty told a news conference the President had received word of the plans from Atty. Gen. Brownell. Eisenhower has been informed daily of the Little Rock situation.

Meanwhile, there was intense speculation that a compromise, spearheaded by the governors of five states, may be in the making to dissolve the impasse between the U. S. government and Faubus.

Massachusetts' Gov. Foster Furcolo, a Democrat, telephoned Faubus and laid before him a proposal to put the Little Rock dispute in the hands of five governors for study and recommendations.

Faubus said he deliberated for an hour and then telephoned his acceptance to Furcolo.

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

Once upon a bloody time in Detroit, if you were a refugee from a chain gang, you were not necessarily an escapee from Georgia. You might have been a Teamster, or a rival union leader, defying the Teamsters' chain of command. These were the chairs that flogged the gangs which wielded them on the heads and bodies of defiant ones, were Teamster squads which beat opponents out the sidewalks. And federal records reveal that Jimmy Hoffa knew of them as he grew from spear-carrier to field marshal in running battles known as class warfare.

Today those chain-floggings are being probed right on Hoffa's home grounds. And those chains may be his weakest link.

They cannot be hurled against the force now contesting Hoffa's power, for that force is the government.

QUIETLY, almost unknown outside Detroit, the government accepted Hoffa's contemptuous challenge by dispatching a special task force to the auto city.

It is the fashion of Senate racket-busting committee counsel Bob Kennedy to move without fanfare. He simply left Washington, arrived in Detroit, a few days ago, opened a special headquarters in the Federal Building there and began questioning Teamster officials.

With Kennedy were some 10 probers, half of them accountants. In no time at all they were wrist-deep in bank records and whatever data they could obtain from the Teamsters themselves.

In Detroit, the probers could sift through the years. They could go back to 1940—the days when Teamster squads ran loose with strands of chains to show the opposition the terror of their ways.

THIS IS the same probing technique the Senate used on Dave Beck, for whom life was just a bowl of money belts until he made the error of discounting Sen. John McClellan's drawl and Kennedy's curiosity.

When Beck became defiant Kennedy opened a Seattle office. It was closed only after Beck's mania for getting it wholesale through Nate Shefferman became part of our national folklore.

Now Kennedy is giving Hoffa's records the same devotion. The counselor's 10-man task force is going over every figure in Hoffa's personal business deals.

The accountants are examining the business lives of all those who had any financial dealings with him. And some who didn't, but might have gained from having it known that they were Hoffa's friends.

There is Nate Shefferman, for example, another of Hoffa's friends in the labor relations business. What has interested the Kennedy task force is some simple arithmetic revealing that Shefferman had more clients in Michigan than in any other industrial state — over 125 corporations by actual count.

It can be presumed that the committee wants to know just what he did for his clients and how he could do it on Jimmy Hoffa's home grounds. Most of these firms are in the Teamsters' jurisdiction. Not all of them are unionized by the Teamsters—or anyone else.

THE TASK FORCE is curious to know the details of just how this labor relations specialist, so highly placed in Teamster circles that he would actually summon meetings of the union's executive board by phone, operated in Michigan.

Soon this mystery will clear up like a Sherlock Holmes' finale. There has been another small Senate task force probing Shefferman for some three months in the mid-west alone.

We'll hear about that one probably on Oct. 7, when Sen. McClellan will again put the labor relations expert on the witness chair.

And Mr. Kennedy whimsically has heeded the urgings of Teamsters that he probe management too.

HE IS looking into management — especially of an auto hauling firm known as Test Fleet. That firm, defunct, is run by Jim Hoffa.

It has contracts with Jim Hoffa's Teamsters Union.

Kennedy has been looking into those contracts to see how zealously Brother Hoffa has protected the interests of rank- and - file Teamsters working for Test Fleet, from which Hoffa draws considerable benefit.

This is how Hoffa would have it. It is the logical turn in the road of power taken a long time ago by a bright but rough man.

It would have been wiser for him to learn before taking that road that a chain is a shackle as well as a weapon.

Girl, 14, Discovers Method to Reduce Cooking Time

NEW YORK (AP)—Three-minute eggs may be cooked in 1½ minutes, thanks to research by a 14-year-old girl, the American Chemical Society's national meeting was told today.

The girl, Brenda Gail Kanegis, a student at a Hyattsville, Md., junior high school, discovered that when glycerine is added to water the cooking time for vegetables and other foods can be greatly reduced.

Her findings were contained in a paper prepared for delivery to the society today.

She is a daughter of the paper jointly with her father, James Kanegis, a member of the Office of Technical Services, Department of Commerce, and Dr. Roger Gilmont, a chemical engineer, who is vice president and technical director of the Manostat Corp., New York City.

Glycerine, when dissolved in water, Gilmont said, means the boiling point can be raised without resorting to pressure. Ordinarily, pressure is used to achieve the high temperatures needed to speed up cooking.

Miss Kanegis' research, carried out in a school science project, won her second prize in the Prince Georges County, Md., Science Fair this year.

Because of the successful application of glycerine solutions in cooking of various foods, Gilmont said, future experiments will use pure glycerine to fry foods. If these are successful, he said, housewives will be able to produce fried foods without grease.

Would you call this fair play?

Number 5 has to take the high hurdles—number 3 gets by with the low. Would you call this a fair race?

Hardly—but you and most people face that same kind of unfairness every day as far as your taxes are concerned. Here's how:

Part of every dollar you pay for electricity goes for taxes. But a strange twist in federal laws exempts several million American families and businesses from paying all the taxes in their electric bills that you pay in yours. These are the people who get their electricity from federal government electric systems. Like runner number 3, they enjoy lower tax hurdles while you strain over the high ones.

This kind of tax favoritism is a far cry from American standards of fair play. That's why we believe it should be made widely known and given critical study.

U. S. Mediators Renew Efforts To Break Ohio Bell, CWA Talks

CLEVELAND (AP)—Federal mediators renewed efforts today to break a deadlock in contract negotiations between Ohio Bell Telephone Co. and the Communications Workers union.

Police Protection Requested for Family

CHICAGO (AP)—The mother of slain Judith Mae Anderson's closest friend has requested police protection for her family.

Mrs. Delores Johnson, 43, told police "there is obviously a maniac at large. The victim could have been my daughter, as easily as Judy."

Her daughter is 15-year-old Linnea (Terry) Johnson. The girls were almost inseparable pals before Judith disappeared Aug. 16. Her dismembered body was found a week later in Montrose Harbor. Terry has denied to police reports that she and Judith accepted rides with strangers.

Police expanded their search for clues to the lake bottom outside Jontrose Harbor in Lake Michigan where Judith's body was found, and to neighborhoods not previously canvassed.

Radar Patrolman Stops Blushing School Teacher

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—A police radar crew stopped a woman motorist in a school zone Monday, the first day of school.

As he made out a ticket, a patrolman asked the driver why she was going 42 miles an hour in a 20-mile zone.

She blushed and answered: "I'm a school teacher. And I'm late for school."

BOY KILLED BY TRACTOR

CONNEAUT, Ohio (AP)—A tractor he was driving overturned and crushed Philip Kisper, 10, to death Monday on Ohio T4 in Kelloggsville near his home.

Ohio Bell has made what it calls a final offer. The union rejected the proposal which, they said, would set the pattern for other contracts in the Bell system.

A meeting for 10 a.m. was arranged by mediators who met separately with company and union representatives Monday.

Monday's meetings produced "absolutely no progress," according to Martin J. Hughes, Ohio CWA Director. He had said that any meetings with the company would be useless unless they improved their offer.

The old contract expired Saturday and a strike set for Sunday was delayed. Members agreed to stay on the job pending the outcome of negotiations between Western Electric Co. and CWA installers in New York.

Of the 18,600 Ohio Bell employees only 115 at Ironton went on strike Sunday. The Ironton local refused to work without an agreement. At a meeting Monday they agreed to continue their walkout. Supervisory employees manned the switchboards but telephone service was hampered.

Placed before the union is a company offer of a 15-month contract providing a pay raise of $2.50-$5 weekly or a one-year agreement with a $2-$4.50 weekly raise.

"We will not accept a 15-month contract," Hughes said, "and the 12-month contract is inadequate."

New York negotiations between CWA installers and Western Electric also were stalemated. The installers seek a 22-cent hourly wage package and fringe benefits. A threatened strike would affect 44 states, including Ohio.

If the installers walk out, so will Ohio Bell, Hughes said. Both companies are subsidiaries of American Telephone and Telegraph. A joint strike, Hughes said, would improve CWA's negotiating position.

However, he added, "If we can reach an agreement here with Ohio Bell prior to any Western Electric deadline we will."

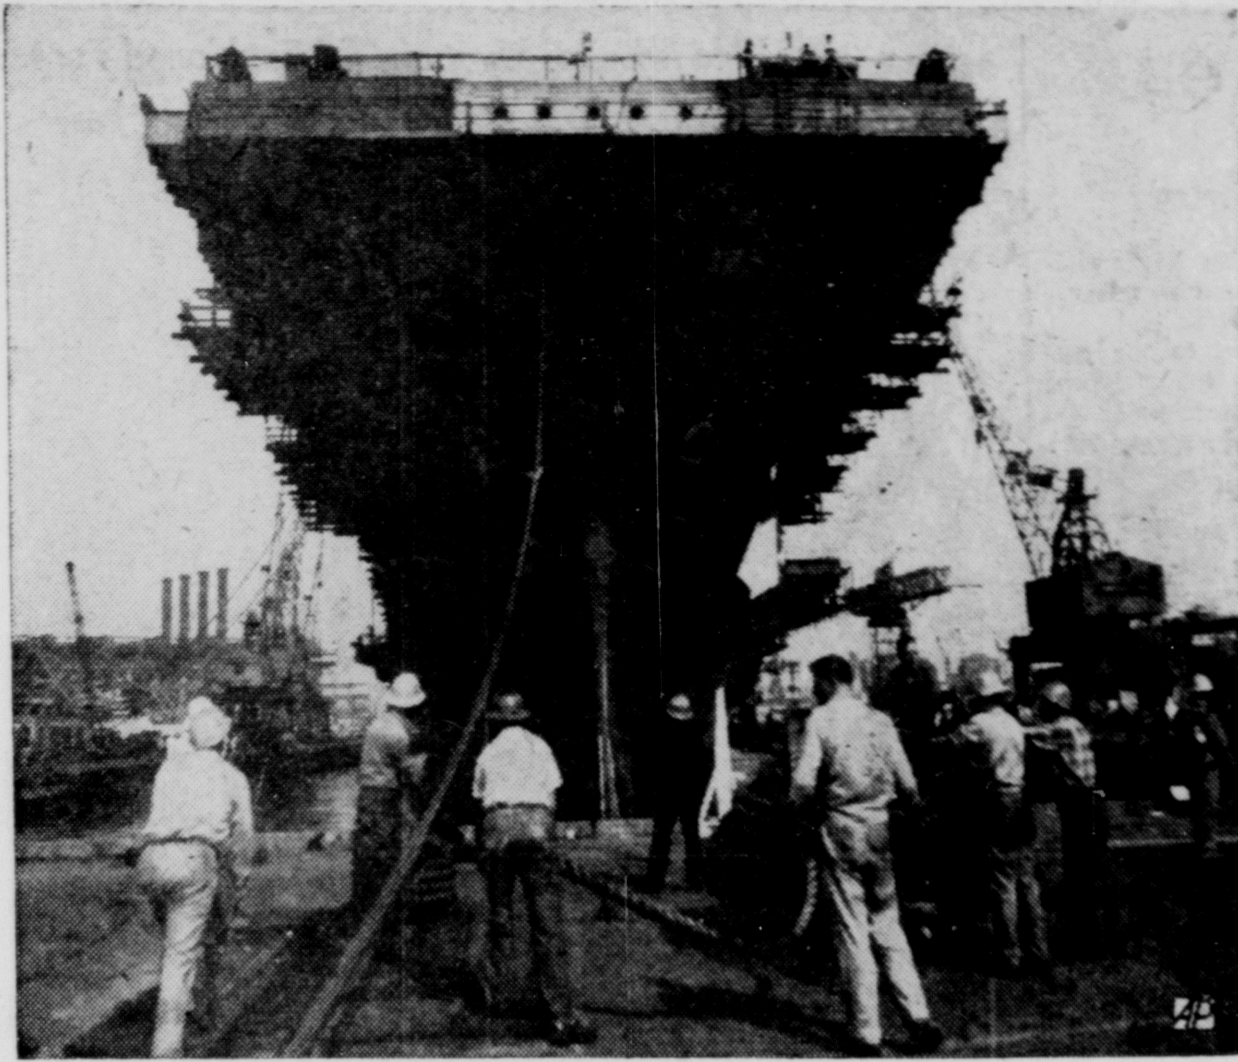

"But we will go on strike at any time Western Electric goes out." No strike deadline has been set in the New York negotiations but one will be announced in the immediate future, Hughes said.

Even with a new contract Ohio Bell would face a work stoppage if Western Electric strikes, Hughes said, because "we will honor their picket lines."

Sky-High Finance

A second indictment against Dave Beck charging evasion of income taxes deepens an impression of paramount importance to the members of Congress who are studying evidence of union irresponsibility in the handling of large sums of money belonging to members.

This evidence is going to be used as the basis of laws to protect union funds. The way things have been up to now, some of these funds can be drawn on in a manner that is shocking when called to attention, yet in a manner that is not illegal.

Men like Beck who have grown accustomed to loose financial practices that would be impossible to justify in other areas of high finance might easily be tempted to abuse their privileges. They have dabbled in a kind of sky-high finance that has no counterpart in other fields of endeavor. With no legal restrictions to guide them, they "shot the moon."

Beck declares he had no personal knowledge of income tax shortage totaling $184,000. He explains that accountants took care of his tax responsibilities; that all he did was sign what they told him to sign. Even for a free-spending czar of big unionism, that is a damaging admission of recklessness with money. He is charged with evading more in taxes alone than a member of this union would earn in a long lifetime.

Students Not To Blame

The U.S. Supreme Court has affirmed and experience proves there can be no sudden solution for the problem caused by segregation in public schools.

But at the beginning of a new school year, when thousands of adults are doing everything they can in segregated areas to keep schools that way, it becomes evident once more that segregation is not an educational problem.

It is a social problem — a clash between points of view in the adult populations of many communities in the United States, not all of them in the South.

Students are not to blame. With rare exceptions, teachers are not to blame, either. Or school administrators. Or citizens who are interested in the schools as sources of education.

Opponents of desegregation have no interest in education, except as a means of resisting the federal government's effort to guarantee first-class citizenship to all citizens of the United States.

If students were let alone, desegregation could become effective without friction. A new outbreak of incidents of violence in Southern communities makes it plain that politicians and hatemongers have no intention of letting students alone.

In a Free Economy

The double exchange of letters between UAW President Reuther and the presidents of the three principal auto manufacturers brought out a truth about a free economy that is often neglected.

The White House comment on Mr. Reuther's proposal to cut auto prices $100 on UAW's promise to take the cut into consideration in next year's wage negotiations was a reminder that government cannot tell either manufacturers or unions what to do in a free economy.

It can hope that they will be mindful that the public as well as the parties have an interest in the agreements they reach. But it cannot intervene to ake them reach pre-arranged agreements. It can fix neither prices nor wages.

This can be done only by management and labor in a free economy, subject to whatever penalties may grow out of wrong decisions. That is the essence of a free economy, the thing that makes it different from a managed economy.

Not too many years ago, government dictated prices and wages in the auto industry and all other important industries. It did this under its wartime emergency authority, and no one was happy with the result. Those who are tempted to think it would be a good idea for the government to get back into price-fixing should never forget that wage - freezing is on the other side of the coin.

There is no way to run a half - managed and half - free economy.

What's Wrong with M-mm

It comes as a low blow to Marilyn Monroe fans that M-M-mm wasn't even in the running in a film poll to find out what's vampish about a vamp.

A survey of experts like Clark Gable and William Holden, plus scores of Hollywood writers, makes it clear that the vampiest vamp is a composite of several stars. She has Ava Gardner's eyes, Cyd Charisse's legs, Elizabeth Taylor's face, Anita Ekberg's physique, Anne Baxter's staidy look, Lana Turner's pouting lips, Ann Sheridan's husky voice and Janet Leigh's impish ways.

Now after years of press and picture buildup, M-M-mm, who we were led to believe had everything, hasn't even one of the vampish attributes. It's a low blow.

Same Old Stories

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Intolerances of 1850's Being Repeated

To say that "history repeats itself" sounds commonplace but sometimes there's a startling similarity.

David Lawrence

Court decision in the Dredd Scott case, in which it is ruled by 5 to 3 that a Negro isn't a citizen.

2. China is at war with England and France.

3. Russia moves in to expand at the expense of China.

4. The Crimean War, which involved the major countries of Europe in a bitter struggle for power in eastern Europe and the Middle East, has just ended but "little wars" ensue. There is a big revolution in India—100,000 dead.

5. New York City is caught in the biggest wave of gangsterism in its history. The mayor, with his police force, defies the governor. The state militia is at the scene but it is outnumbered by the mayor's policemen. Federal troops come to guard the Customs House but take no other part in the affair.

6. TIGHT MONEY and high interest rates cause a paralysis of business and a deeper recession than had occurred in 1854. It climaxes a period of rising prices and expansion of mills and factories in what one historian calls "a boastful but spotty prosperity and a general extravagance."

7. Washington is in turmoil over "civil rights." The Democratic party is splitting. The new Republican party is growing in strength. The northern press is demanding the scalp of the Supreme Court.

8. Within a few months comes a religious revival throughout the nation, and, as usual, there is some skepticism as to its lasting effects.

The circumstances and the geography may be different today, but the underlying passions and impulses to good and evil are the same.

Today impatience and the urge to do away with the normal forms of redress through the courts and to use troops to enforce segregation, without giving dissenters a chance to exercise their constitutional rights of protest and challenge, are bringing about a "cold war" between sections of the country.

THE SAME intolerance as was exhibited in the 1850's is being repeated in the 1950's. When the governor of Arkansas today orders out his troops to prevent rioting and bloodshed, he is accused of making solely a "political gesture"—as if nobody in Washington has been making gestures to get the Negro vote of the North without regard to the consequences to the people of the South.

Instead of relying on the customary opportunity for argument in the courts and dealing with the matter step by step, giving time for gradual application and further interpretation of the Supreme Court's decision, there is a tendency to strong-arm the people of the South.

The most regrettable example of this was a hint in the President's telegram to the Arkansas governor last week in which this unfortunate statement was made: "You and other state officials—as well as the National Guard, which is, of course, uniformed, armed and partially sustained by the federal government—will, I am sure, give full cooperation to the United States District Court."

WHY ANYBODY in the Department of Justice should have prepared such phraseology for the President to sign is a mystery. For it is a blunder that will spell the doom of any legislation in the future wherein federal money is given to the schools of the states.

If the telegram means that the executive, without action by Congress, can at any time threaten reprisals just because federal money has been appropriated to aid the states, then measures seeking to grant federal aid to schools hereafter will earn the unceasing opposition of the South.

Together with the economy-minded groups in Congress from the North, a coalition majority inevitably will keep school-aid legislation from being enacted.

This is no time to threaten the states with reprisals.

Why wouldn't it have been better to assume the good faith of the governor—who, incidentally, had not objected to integration in three other localities in Arkansas—and to wait it out? The State Militia can hardly stay around the schools indefinitely.

Reason, however, vanishes when passion and the emotions of controversy take hold.

Action taken in 1857 could have prevented the war between the States four years later. It will be a sad era for America if forbearance isn't practiced at this time.

THE SOUTH has a right to be heard and a right to try by various devices of state law to accomplish the major purpose—to give a good education to all children and to do so under conditions which will bring no sociological harm to the students of either or both races.

It's not a problem that can be solved by claiming that the Supreme Court has explicitly laid down "the law." For the court's edict of 1954 is vague and undefined and there is much yet to clarify.

Integration is not compulsory. Voluntary segregation is not illegal. Only forced segregation is unconstitutional. So says the un-reversed decision of a 3-judge U.S. Court in 1955.

TV Obsolescence

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK — The harried television set makers and dealers are going to try a new gambit. It's right out of Detroit—or maybe the fashion salons of Paris. And its name is obsolescence.

They would like several million American families to decide their old sets are obsolete and poor things indeed compared to the one the Joneses are sporting.

For years the auto makers have thrived on convincing Americans that their old cars when parked alongside the neighbors' new ones made the family lose social standing.

Way before that the women's apparel industry learned how to make wives unhappy sure that last year's wardrobe was unfit to be seen in public.

Now the TV industry is going to try the same thing. It's kicking off a drive this week to stress that it's now 10 years since there was general consumer acceptance of TV and that the first ones were postage stamp size and mechanically inferior to today's models.

In that decade 50 million sets have been sold and James D. Secrest, of Washington, executive vice president of the Radio Electronics and TV Manufacturers Assn., estimates that about 44% million of these are still in use.

So you can see why the TV industry frets about reaching the saturation point and eyes replacement longingly.

Saturation isn't the industry's only problem. Sales have been sticky, inventories troublesome, and at times over-production has led to manufacturing fatalities.

There's a big rumble building up over paid TV vs. free TV. There's the chronic dispute over color vs. black and white.

But right now the manufacturer

"No Missile—Just an Old-Fashioned Torpedo"

Integration Showdown

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON — Federal Judge Ronald N. Davies, representing the power of the federal government in dealing with states, has met the challenge of Gov. Orval Faubus of Arkansas by moving toward a showdown.

Although Davies—in accordance with the Supreme Court's ban on public school segregation—had ordered Little Rock's Central High integrated, Faubus used the state's National Guard to keep Negro children out of the school.

Faubus said he wasn't defying the judge but just trying to prevent disorder and bloodshed. He said a majority of the people of Little Rock opposed integration.

Twice again last week, after the troops kept the Negroes out, Davies ordered integration to proceed. But Faubus held the guard around the school.

No matter what Faubus' stated purpose was, the net effect of his use of the troops was to interfere with the court's order to integrate the school. If Faubus could do this with impunity, all other Southern governors could do likewise.

And, if they did, the Supreme Court's ban on segregation would have no meaning. But that court's decision has the force of federal law. If state governors could nullify federal law, there would be a crisis in government.

Monday Davies directed the U.S. attorney general and the U.S. attorney at Little Rock to prepare injunction proceedings against Faubus and commanding officers of the Guard to stop their interference with school integration.

Ordinarily, this is the procedure: 1. The attorney general, acting in the public interest as the judge sees it, lays down reasons why a temporary injunction or restraining order should be issued.

The judge can, if he chooses, grant the injunction or order without a hearing. They are similar, but sometimes both the restraining order and the temporary injunction are used as separate steps.

2. Then—usually within 10 days—he issues an order to the one against whom the temporary injunction has been granted to show cause why a permanent injunction shouldn't be issued against him.

3. This show-cause order is delivered by a U.S. marshal.

4. Then the person given the show-cause order can appear before the judge to present his side of the case, fully and in open court, to argue against both the temporary and permanent injunctions.

5. The judge, hearing both sides, then decides whether to issue a permanent injunction.

But this is where the story becomes complex and unpredictable.

Take it step by step. Davies can issue a temporary injunction, ordering Faubus not to use the troops to keep the Negroes out of school. If Faubus obeys, he is next served with the show-cause order by a U.S. marshal.

If he should use troops around his mansion to keep the marshal out, and refuse to present his side of the case, the judge still could issue the permanent injunction without him.

But suppose Faubus doesn't want to obey the temporary injunction. He can go over Davies' head to the U.S. Court of Appeals, asking it to stay Davies' temporary injunction. If he wins, the situation is back where it started before Davies issued the temporary injunction. But suppose he tries the appellate court and loses — or just doesn't bother going there — and, disobeying Davies' temporary injunction, still holds troops around the school to keep the Negroes out.

What then? Davies could cite him for contempt for ignoring or disobeying the temporary injunction. Then he could try Faubus for civil contempt and clap him in jail until he obeyed or try him for criminal contempt and give him a flat jail sentence for disobedience.

But that raises a question: Suppose Faubus ignored the temporary injunction by keeping troops around the school and then refused to go or let himself be taken to court to face trial on contempt charges.

The judge could try and sentence him in absentia. But how could the sentence be carried out if Faubus kept himself surrounded by guardsmen? The Eisenhower administration would have to worry about that one.

The judge has no force, except for U.S. marshals, to bring anyone to court. But Eisenhower has said he would uphold the Constitution, which includes doing what is necessary to carry out the Supreme Court's ban on public school segregation.

It Can Be Overdone

(Editor's Note: Some of T.T.'s readers have written vacation columns for him this year. Today's essayist is a retired school teacher.)

By RUTH LEHMILLER

I recently read a piece entitled "More Fun in School" which I trust will not be taken in its entirety by any teacher or any person planning to teach, a least not without a few grains of the salt of common sense.

From the writings of a woman who the author said was an associate professor of so-called "education" at New York University there had been lifted out of context this quotation:

"So few teachers know how to laugh. These teachers scold too much. They make children feel that school isn't a place for laughing and telling jokes."

It is the last sentence to which I especially object.

In the first place, I have known a great many teachers both as a student and a teacher. I have also known quite a few doctors, lawyers, business people etc., and on the whole I think teachers laugh as much as any of the other groups.

In the second place, it seems silly to think of school as being essentially a place for laughing and telling jokes. After all, who is to be the judge of what is humorous, witty, or funny?

Much depends upon the sense of humor of the listeners. A good many professional comedians must have been pondering the problem recently, when their big contracts of long standing were not renewed.

Even the so-called "comedies," I am told, are going intellectual and political. I have heard that Little Orphan Annie has been concerning herself with nuclear theories and atomic controls.

Most of us will agree that Mark Twain, Will Rogers and Eddie Cantor are among the few humorists who have held and amused audiences over a long period.

Personally, I think it is far more important for a teacher to have a sense of humor than to be humorous, or attempt to be humorous, by telling a lot of jokes, many of which may sound silly and stupid to students from another generation. Many people have a certain sense of humor, but few are really humorists.

I once found this note scribbled on the margin of a page in a high school text: "This is where he tells the goofy story about Napoleon. Be sure to laugh if you want a good grade."

Times change, but human nature does not. Almost two centuries ago, Oliver Goldsmith wrote of the beloved village schoolmaster: "Full well they laughed with counterfeit glee at all his jokes (for many a joke had he)."

As to the telling of jokes to students, I have heard high school boys and girls when commenting on an assembly speaker say he would have been far more interesting if he had not told so many "that - reminds - me" jokes which had nothing to do with his subject.

That the humor of Mark Twain is universal has been proved to me every time I have read aloud to students from "Tom Sawyer" about Tom's aversion to "washing up" his crush on Becky Thatcher and his dislike of sissies like Wilie Mufferson. The humor is obvious.

I heard a wise school superintendent say it would be well for the teachers to have a good laugh with their students at least once during each recitation, but to make a practice of telling jokes in class is another matter.

When Oliver Wendell Holmes, one of our great humorists, was asked to make a witty speech at a reunion dinner of his class at Harvard, he almost refused because, he said, "It is such a very serious thing to be a funny man."

And Dr. Holmes was so right.

Drilling an oil well is a slow process. At Fort Stockton, Texas a well is now being drilled to a prospective depth of 22,000 feet. It was begun July 6, 1957 and is expected to hit oil (or a dry hole) in a year and a half.

Mr. Molotov Speaking

Long years I've known power at close to the top—
No man to a cause has been stouter:
An eminent figure in Moscow . . . than "Bop!"
I'm flat in Mongolia (Outer).

II
My presence tied in with each Soviet scene—
The Kremlin I knew like a mother:
My rating was high, if you know what I mean:
Then "Wham! To Mongolia, brother."

III
I've been in the main ring since almost a kid,
Well known for my center-stage bluster:
I long held the spotlight, but now my pals bid:
"To Outer Mongolia, buster!"

IV
I clung to the homeland and played a star role;
My future I thought rather glowing;
But what do I hear like a voice from the Pole?
"Mongolia's calling . . . Get going!"

V
The Soviet way protects all. I was told,
I battled to lighten its rating:
How chilling to hear in the gathering cold,
"You can't keep Mongolia waiting"!!!

NEW YORK IS to have a musical of "Sherlock Holmes." We anticipate a Watson Trio, a Scotland Yard ballet and a Holmes with a sparkling dance routine. Possible titles "The Bulls Are Ringing," "Sleuth Pacific" and "My Fair Gumbshoe."

Murder and horror themes are quite the thing on the stage these days and it may be logical to expect some killings with words and music. We can fancy Sherlock going over the gory premises with a chorus line, and Watson doing his bungling as a member of a quartet.

Watson—Where are we going now, Holmes? Sherlock—This is the case of the headless widow of Williston-on-Deedpith Downs, my dear Watson. Come along, and watch your musical cues!

SAL MAGLIE, now a Yankee pitcher has hurried for the Dodgers and Giants in the past, and is perhaps the only pitcher ever to serve the three New York clubs. As a tongsorialist will he now be known as the Yankee Clipper?

Sal can't play in the series but he can be annoying to the enemy by yelling from the dug-out, "Bay rum or witch hazel!"

A wonderful mood was lost when the Brooklyn Dodgers and the New York Giants met for the last time. For 75 years or so clashes between the Giants and the "Bums" had been something unique in baseball. Color, high drama, comedy and the cockeyed twist featured these games for generations "Anything can happen in a Giant-Dodger game and generally does" was a famous saying. At few sporting events could you count on the circus-like mood of an Ebbetts Field meeting between these rivals. Probably more riots, free-for-all fights, spectacular hassles, wild swings, chin-to-chin arguments and really grand comedy routines took place at Giant-Brooklyn games than in any other clashes in athletic history. Yes, there will still be a Giant team, but it will not be the Polo Grounds outfit — the traditional "foe from across the river." It will be the Frisco Giants, and long distance will wipe out the old-time do or die spirit. (After all, the neighborhood mood will be gone, and who can work up as fine a frenzy of belligerence as can one neighbor against another?)

Teacher Certification Changes May Be Made

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—An overhaul of some major regulations governing teacher certification is being considered by the State Board of Education.

The board indicated at its regular meeting Monday night that it will adopt the proposed changes but called a mandatory public hearing on them for Nov. 12.

The changes, recommended by a subcommittee of the board, would:

Require a minimum of 17 hours and a maximum of 20 hours of professional educational courses for all high school teachers. There is not maximum now.

Require a minimum of 28 hours and a maximum of 34 semester hours of training in all institutions preparing elementary teachers. The present minimum of 28 hours would remain unchanged, but the maximum of 38 would be reduced by four.

Require principals and supervisors in elementary and high schools to have a year's classroom experience in the same type of school they are administering. The regulation requiring them to have three years successful classroom teaching, at any level, would continue.

Eliminate the present requirement for teachers to have dual certification—one for elementary and one for high school teaching.

In other action, the board approved annexation of 1,308 acres of the Miami Trace district in Fayette County to the Washington Court House district. Approval came over the protest of Charles H. Fabb, Fayette County treasurer, who asked the board to take no action until a study is made of the possibility of establishing a single school district for the entire county.

The Miami Trace district now operates as the county district, and Washington Court House as the city district.

The board also approved recommendations of Dr. E. E. Holt, superintendent of public instruction, dealing with the annexation of school districts. The proposed policy would enable school districts to avoid loss of tax revenue by having county commissioners and city councils use certain provisions for conditional annexations pending decisions by the State Board on school annexation proposals.

Inflationary Woes

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Are you one of those people who want to beat inflation but don't know how? President Eisenhower has denounced inflation as our greatest domestic problem, a sure sign that it is no longer popular in all quarters.

But what can be done about it? The classical economists urge a general tightening of belts. But this could result only in everyone going around with a stomachache—or a broken belt.

The surest cure for inflation is to reduce unnecessary expenses. This doesn't mean you should cut down on life's utter necessities, such as your daily ration of tranquilizers or a bottle of champagne every time your wife wants to celebrate a golden wedding anniversary. It means you should avoid those small needless drains that fritter away your income.

Remember, a nickel saved—even in inflation times—is still a penny gained.

Here are a few tested tips on how to make your money last longer and go farther.

1. Avoid colds. Nothings wears out handkerchiefs like a heavy cold.

2. Carry around a lot of $2 bills. Sooner or later a cashier will mistake one for a $5 bill, and you'll be $3 ahead every time this happens.

3. When you go to the movies, don't buy your popcorn in the theater. It's too expensive there. Pop your corn at home and bring it along.

4. Do you know a traveling salesman. Have him bring back free stationery, hotel soap and towels from his farflung journeys to Keokuk and Hoboken.

5. When you mail checks to pay your bills, omit stamps from the envelopes. Let the firm that is getting your money pay the postage.

6. Are medical expenses getting you down? Borrow pills from the guys in your office. Sooner or later you'll find a man with the same ailment you have.

7. Leave your own car in the garage more. Start hitch-hiking to work with your neighbor. If after a month or so, he suggests it's your turn to buy the gas, cut the churl dead. Hitch-hike with another neighbor.

8. Never buy your own salt, pepper or sugar cubes. All of these items are available free at the restaurant where you lunch. Fill your pockets.

9. Have you been giving your old clothes to the Salvation Army for years? Well, how about dropping into the nearest Salvation Army shelter and asking them, "What have you got for me this year?"

10. Adopt a money-making hobby—such as taking in washing. If your wife objects that this is beneath your dignity, let her or your kids do it. Nothing builds character in women and children more than doing other people's laundry.

Inflation? Let the worry warts fret over it.

The fellow who really knows how to live ought to save so much dough during an inflation he'll find it necessary to buy a money shredder to get rid of all that green stuff piling up in his house so fast he can't spend it, or burn it with matches.

MAKES LARGE HARVEST

WARSAW (AP)—Poland has produced an above average harvest this year but still must tighten its belt to save foreign exchange now spent on butter and other goods. Wladyslaw Gomułka says. The Communist leader told 100,000 persons celebrating the traditional feast Sunday the Communist government is spending 12 million dollars a year to import butter. He told the crowd "We must eat the drippings (lard and fats) in Poland and stop importing butter."

PATROLS CUBA'S COASTLINE

HAVANA, Cuba (AP)—Warplanes and Navy ships today patrolled Cuba's long coastline to guard against rebel landings from Mexico. Reports from Mexico said Cubans there were preparing to send supplies and men to the rebels of Fidel Castro.

King Henry VIII of England passed a law which made it illegal to use hops in the making of beer. Too many burps.

Some Governors Criticize Faubus

Others Raise Their Voices in His Defense

By The Associated Press
Some governors spoke out Monday against the actions of Arkansas Gov. Orval E. Faubus on the school integration issue, while others raised their voices in Faubus' defense. Numerous governors chose to remain silent on the issue.

One defender was Democratic Gov. Marvin Griffin of Georgia, who said he thought Faubus, in ordering the National Guard to keep Negroes out of a school where a federal court had ordered integration, was "on sound ground."

But at Madison, Wis., Gov. Vernon Thomson, Republican, said that "from here it (Faubus' action) appears to be a shocking disregard of lawful procedure."

"It is reminiscent of the stand of the South in the Civil War. It is difficult to understand," he added.

Another Republican governor, Theodore McEldin of Maryland, has said: "No member of the Maryland National Guard will ever be asked to cross his rifle at a schoolyard gate to bar the entrance of a little girl."

Among Democratic governors attacking Faubus' action were Gov. Averell Harriman of New York and Gov. Robert B. Meyner of New Jersey.

Harriman was one of the governors to whom Democratic Gov. Foster Furcolo of Massachusetts had proposed that a bipartisan committee of governors be named to seek a solution of the integration problem in Little Rock.

Furcolo said he made the proposal to Faubus, Harriman, Gov. G. Mennen Williams (D-Mich.), Gov. George Leader (D-Pa.), Gov. Orville L. Freeman (D-Minn.), Gov. William G. Stratton (R-Ill.), Gov. Thomas B. Stanley (D-Va.), and presidential aide Sherman Adams.

Leader commended the plan but declined to serve due to the pressure of his schedule. Leader had no immediate comment on the Little Rock situation.

Williams said at Lansing, Mich., that "it's unfortunate that things appear to have reached the stage where state governors have to undertake the solution of a problem which ought to be the responsibility of the President."

In Springfield, Ill., Stratton would neither affirm nor deny that Furcolo had called him. Furcolo said he asked Stratton, chairman of the Governors' Conference, to appoint the committee. Stratton refused to comment on the Little Rock situation.

Many Southern governors declined to take a public stand on the issue. Among these were Gov. Stanley of Virginia, Gov. Leroy Collins of Florida, Gov. Luther Hodges of North Carolina, Gov. Price Daniel of Texas and Gov. Frank Clement of Tennessee.

South Carolina's Gov. George Bell Timmerman Jr. reiterated the stand he took in a telegram to Faubus Saturday, in which he said "I congratulate and commend you on the rightfulness of your position."

Republican Gov. Harold Hanley of Indiana said he did not believe the Arkansas situation has reached the stage of a states' rights battle but was still a fight between the State of Arkansas and the federal judiciary.

Gov. A. B. (Happy) Chandler of Kentucky said: "I sympathize with him and would help him if I could."

Guarding Your Health

By Dr. EDWIN P. JORDAN
Questions and Answers

Bites or stings can constitute a nuisance — or worse — as indicated in today's first letter.

Q — For the past two summers some sort of insects just barely visible seem to bite me mostly on the legs. They draw blood, and as a result I have marks on my legs the entire summer. I know they are not mosquitoes but seem like tiny black things. Can you supply an answer?

A — It is hard to tell what particular kind of insect is responsible for these bites. I know that in the northwoods one is frequently troubled by small flying insects commonly called "no-seems." In this kind of problem I should think the best thing to do would be to experiment with some of the insect repellents. One has to be careful that the chemicals contained in these substances do not irritate the skin. They should be tried cautiously at first and not used longer than necessary. It is also true that some people become hypersensitive to insect bites or stings.

Q — I suffer often from cracks in the corners of my mouth. I do not wet my lips and apply creams every night. It is annoying and cannot open my mouth to eat without pain. Could this be the result of a lack in a certain vitamin?

A — A vitamin lack is one possibility. However, one should also want to consider the possibility of some sensitivity or allergy, or perhaps a local disorder of the skin itself.

Q — Would you please comment on cracking knee joints in a girl 20 years old who has had this condition since her teens?

A — If there is no pain or swelling in the knees it is probable that this is simply the noise made when certain ligaments pass over the cartilage of the joint. This is not really an abnormality nor anything to become concerned about. Of course, if the young lady has any other symptoms in her knee joints, she should be carefully examined.

Q — I should like to know in what kind of illness a person is required to drink an atomic cocktail containing radioactive iodine?

A — This method of treatment is used for some patients with toxic goiter. In carefully selected patients it is extremely useful and sometimes makes it possible to avoid removing the thyroid.

Q — Does drinking from two to three cases of beer constitute drinking too much alcohol? What, if any effect, does it have on a person's health?

A — The inquirer does not state whether the beer is consumed in a couple of days or a couple of months. Beer disagrees with some people and apparently does not bother others much. In addition to the alcohol, which is a food, it contains other calories, so that beer is fattening.

Mahoning County ACP Funds Still Available

L. L. Moff, chairman of the Mahoning County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, said today that there are still funds available for federal cost-sharing for needed conservation practices under the Mahoning County Agricultural Conservation program.

Moff invited farmers to submit requests to the County ASC Office in Canfield for cost-sharing on conservation practices they can complete before the end of this year.

Such practices, for which cost sharing is available in this county are: Permanent cover for orchards and vineyards, increase in legumes and grasses, application of lime on legumes and perennial grasses, improvement of permanent vegetative cover, wells for livestock water (no federal cost-sharing will be allowed for wells constructed primarily for the use of farm headquarters), open drainage systems and tiling.

DOUBLE TROUBLE FOR TEACHER

Mrs. John McMullen, of Windsor Locks, Conn., assured school principal Richard Ahern, right, that the teacher wouldn't have any problem correctly identifying her twin sons, because, "Billy has the front tooth missing."

However, when the identical twins, Billy and Michael, arrived for their first day in the first grade, they not only were dressed alike and had the same freckle count, but along the way Michael had lost a front tooth.

Levies Discussed At County Meeting

LISBON — A meeting of the Columbiana County Health and Safety Council was held in County Extension Office Monday afternoon at which time the levies that will appear on the Nov. 5 ballots were discussed.

The renewal of the six-tenths mill levies of both Welfare and TB departments, plus the new two-tenths mill levy for operation of the County Health Department's office were discussed.

A public meeting of the Columbiana County Health and Safety Council was tentatively set for Sept. 30 at 8 p.m. at St. George's Parish Hall.

Blast

Three factors figured in the timing, officials said. They were (1) failure to reach agreement with Russia at the London disarmament talks; (2) the Soviet Union's boastful announcement two weeks ago that it had successfully launched an intercontinental missile, coupled with more recent statements from Moscow that Russia could beat America in any nuclear war; and (3) stepped-up Communist penetration of the Middle East through power seizure and arms buildups in Syria.

American officials noted that Russia followed its missile announcement with a publicity campaign aimed at picturing America as a military weakling.

Only last Sunday Soviet air chief Konstantin A. Vershinin said Russia could destroy the United States and all its allies with smaller losses itself. Vershinin told the Soviet Communist paper Pravda that a Soviet H-bomb attack could inflict 50 million casualties on the United States.

Murphy said in his speech "We have taken constant initiative to bring into being a comprehensive disarmament agreement with built-in safeguards. It is entirely possible that this initiative has been misinterpreted in some world areas as a decline in American power."

He mentioned big Soviet arms shipments to Syria, Egypt and Yemen, and to the arrival in the Middle East area of what he said were substantial numbers of Russian technicians.

"I think it should be said to those countries impressed by Soviet power politics and access to Soviet arms, Communist methods being what they are, they run the grave risk of absorption and loss of their independence," he said.

Fund Campaign Set By Lisbon K of C

LISBON — The Lisbon Knights of Columbus will begin their youth financial drive Sunday, according to a report made by Grand Knight Jack E. Steitz at a press conference at the Wick Hotel Monday evening.

The drive will last until Dec. 7 and will be in conjunction with the state Knights of Columbus drive. Last year the club donated $200 to the Lisbon Pony League.

Attending last night's dinner meeting were: Rev. Fr. Francis Thomas Steitz, Past Grand Knight; Felix Rutecki Jr., Tom Gallo, press correspondent for the local club; William S. Frew, Chester E. Kennedy, Paul Young of the Lisbon Journal, and Albert Hartman, press correspondent for the East Liverpool Review and Salem News.

Ruggles was cited for failing to stop in the assured clear.

GREEKS SHOW CONCERN

ATHENS (AP) — Greek officials showed concern today that Greece might become involved in the Middle East crisis because its airfields are used in the U. S. arms airlift. Under the 1953 U. S.-Greek agreement on military facilities, U. S. armed forces have the right to enter Greece and fly over its territory.

He did not identify the city and said, "I don't place much credence in it."

Little Rock's Mayor Woodrow Mann—who emphatically opposes the governor's action at the high school—also said he has received death threats.

He said "plain filth" had been uttered by an unidentified person who telephoned his wife.

"I don't understand the thinking of a person who would cause a woman for something her husband has done," the mayor said.

No Negro students attempted to pass the line of guardsmen surrounding Central High School Monday.

At North Little Rock High School, white students forcibly kept six Negroes from entering.

People there said teen-age boys were walking around with knives strapped to their legs and boasting that "there'll be some killin' around here if the niggers come back tomorrow."

Faubus said the violence at North Little Rock vindicated the action he took at Central High School.

Fairfield Twp. Ballot Printing Is Halted

EAST LIVERPOOL — The Columbiana County Election Board today halted printing of Fairfield Township ballots for the Nov. 5 general election pending possible certification of a new candidate to replace the late Edgar B. McCammon, an incumbent trustee who was seeking a new term.

Under the law, the committee designated by Mr. McCammon when he filed his nominating petition has the right to designate a new candidate to take his place on the ballot, according to Frank R. O'Hanlon, clerk of the Election Board.

THE 'SPECTRE'

The new rocket engine works at full thrust on its test bed. Engine is on the right.

PHOTOGRAPHERS sometimes have to take special precautions when taking pictures of events as the introduction of Britain's new 'Spectre' rocket engine shows. The cameramen had to don ear pads to protect themselves from the terrific noise created by the engine at its press debut in Hertfordshire, England. It's the first rocket engine designed by British scientists specifically for the propulsion of manned aircraft and capable of a controlled variable thrust output.

BUILDING UP MEMBERSHIP—Visitors to the Bavarian town of Ingolstadt may wonder what kind of construction is going on here. Actually, the circular building consisted of concrete ribs reinforced with steel is going to become a church.

HOW TO HANDLE MEN—ROUGHLY—Margareta Blohm goes through the motions of man-handling a "villain" during a jujitsu lesson. In the painful leg lock is Einar Thunander, who is teaching them to become policewomen in Stockholm.

UP, PERISCOPE—No, he's not the commander of a submarine, but a technician checking on uranium-bearing sludge during salvage operations at an atomic plant in Richland, Wash. Such work has recovered many tons of critically needed uranium.

Purity Dairy Whips Homeworth 7-3 For Girls League Title

Hendron's Edges Old Dutch 2-1

Stepanic's Defeats Kenmar In Slugfest

Purity Dairy behind the beautiful three-hit pitching of Peg Carpenter downed a tough Homeworth team 7-3 in the girls play-off final last night at Kelley Field to win the Girls League championship.

A rough first inning in which Homeworth scored two runs on two walks and two errors was all the real trouble that Carpenter faced.

She settled down afterward and from the second through the seventh frames gave up but one other tally.

Purity played excellent defensive ball. The losing pitcher, Wallace, had a shutout going until the top of the fifth, when the winners crossed the plate with three markers.

SHEPPARD REACHED first on an error to start the Purity rally. Reeder forced Sheppard at second, reaching first on the fielders' choice. She then took second on a pass ball and Cobb walked. Reeder and Cobb then pulled off a double steal, putting runners on second and third.

G. Odey singled, Reeder and Cobb scoring, and Odey reached third base on the throw in. Phillips grounded out short stop to first, Carpenter singled, G. Odey scoring, and on the left fielder's error, Carpenter reached third.

Homeworth tied the count in the bottom of the fifth at three apiece. After two girls were out, Wallace reached base on an error, and Clark sent a sharp single into right field, scoring Wallace.

IN THE TOP HALF OF the seventh Purity let loose with four big runs to pad their margin.

Gloria Odey walked, Phillips singled, and Odey stole third and Phillips, second.

Peg Carpenter slashed a hard single to left field, scoring Odey and Phillips, and Carpenter took second on the throw in. Carol Odey then blasted a home run up against the fence in center field, scoring Carpenter ahead of her.

In other contests played, Hendron's won their first play-off encounter 2-1 over Old Dutch of Alliance, but were forced to go 10 innings, Satch Altomare pitched a beautiful game for the victory.

Old Dutch scored first in the second frame. Haidet reached base on an error, Roesti sacrificed, and with two down, Klan doubled, scoring Haidet.

A TREMENDOUS BLAST by Ken Schoeni over the left field fence in the fifth deadlocked the contest until the 10th frame.

Schoeni opened the final inning with a walk. Wyss doubled, putting runners on second and third. Duce laid down a perfect bunt to squeeze in Schoeni and the ball game was over.

In another game, Stepanic's bested Kenmar in a slugfest 1-3-8. Both teams were playing with but eight men.

The winners scored four big runs in the fourth inning on three walks, two errors, two wild pitches and Kenmar retaliated with two runs on a walk, a single and two ground out.

In the fourth, Stepanic's scored three more on Woods' home run, a double by McNeely, a triple by Vogelhuber, a walk and an error.

Yanks Buy Del Greco From Chicago Cubs

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Yankees again have dipped into the National League bargain basement and have come up with outfield insurance as they start their final home stand today.

The Yankees bought slick-fielding, weak-hitting Bobby Del Greco 24, from the Chicago Cubs Monday. Bobby, a speedy centerfielder, was expected to spell Mickey Mantle, crippled in the last week with painful shin splints.

Del Greco broke in with Pittsburgh in 1932 when he was 19. The first week he hit .500. He finished the season with a .237 average, then was returned to the minors. The Pirates traded him to St. Louis last year for outfielder Bill Virdon. The Cardinals sent him to the Cubs.

He played 123 games this season for the Montreal Royals of the International League where he hit .276. His major league batting average for 216 games before 1937 was .216.

3 Added To List In Jockey Hall Of Fame

BALTIMORE (AP)—They'll open the door to the National Jockeys Hall of Fame next fall to admit a star of today, a saddle giant of yesterday and an all but forgotten great on long ago.

Announced Monday as newly elected addition to the hall were Ted Atkinson, Raymond (Sonny) Workman and Walter Miller.

Atkinson, the 41-year-old little professor who reads the classics as well as scratch sheets between assignments, is rounding out 20 years as a rider.

When the Hall of Fame balloting by more than 500 sports reporters was tabulated last month, he had ridden 3,383 winners out of more than 21,000 mounts.

Workman was the best in the business in the 1930s, riding 1,152 winners out of 5,751 mounts from 1936 through 1940, when he retired.

Miller was the first jockey in history to ride more than 300 winners in one year, scoring with 388 as a 16-year-old in 1906.

Previously elected were Eddie Arcaro, Johnny Longden, Isaac Murphy, Earl Sande, Tod Sloan and George Woolf.

Figuring The Majors

NEW YORK (AP)—Figuring the majors: Red Schoendienst has the highest fielding average among major league second basemen. The Milwaukee star has made only nine errors while handling 731 chances for a .988 mark. He has participated in 89 double plays.

If there was such a thing, Baltimore's Billy Goodman would win the versatile player-of-the-year award. Billy has played every infield position plus two in the outfield.

Willard Nixon of the Boston Red Sox and Harvey Haddix of the Philadelphia Phillies have the best batting averages among the pitchers. Nixon heads the American League with 19 hits in 62 tries for .306 while Haddix has 19 safeties in 64 at bats for .297—the leading NL figure.

"Hits in streaks" is the rating often applied to Wally Moon of the St. Louis Cardinals. Moon has had batting streaks of 24, 20 and 13 games this year. Yet, he's hitting under .300 — at .294. His 24-game streak is high for both circuits.

The New York clubs lead in double plays. The Yankees lead the American with 169 twin-killing follow-ups by Boston with 156. The Giants pace the National with 166 and Milwaukee is second with 158.

Catcher Tim Thompson of Kansas City, probably is experiencing one of the worst ever by a big leaguer. He's managed only six safeties in his most recent 76 times at bat. The .079 pace has reduced his season's mark from .256 to .188. During one stretch, Thompson went 40 times without a hit.

National League comeback of the year? It looks like Hank Sauer of the Giants, who has slammed 25 home runs and batted in 72 runs. Last season with St. Louis, Sauer had only five homers and 24 RBIs.

The bald eagle mates for life; never deserts its home unless forced to by man or weather.

CARS ARE MY Life
by Al Parker

PROGRESS AND THE $60,000 CAR

An automobile engineer recently figured out that if cars today were built with the tools and methods of 1910, but at today's labor and material costs, a medium-price car would sell for more than $60,000.

That's just one way of measuring the wonderful progress that's been made in the automobile industry. Without that struggle for advancement that auto industry might well have killed itself with $60,000 cars.

What you get off your money at today's prices is astonishing.

Today's cars have more than 15,000 parts, the electrical system leading the way with 8,000 separate parts. Many cars use 7 miles of wire to link this all together.

There are more than 400 springs of 175 different kinds in an average car; the two coil springs in front are the largest, the springs in the rear are the smallest.

With all the planning and engineering that goes into cars, I always shudder at the driver who thinks his car is fine as long as it moves. You'd be surprised how many seemingly careful, conscientious drivers there are like this.

Medical science has prolonged the life of man by I don't know how many years and a good mechanic can do the same for your car. You may not want to keep your car for 70 years, but when you're selling it, one of the best advertisements will be: It was serviced regularly by the same mechanic. A regular servicing program can save you money, and we'll be glad to show you how.

Now on our used car lot is this beautiful 1955 Chevrolet which has been serviced regularly since we sold it new! It is a fine example of the statement in the above paragraph. It's a "210" Series, Four Door, fully equipped, including power glide, dark green. One owner. $1345.

Grading, Packing Of Apples Begins In Columbiana

Co-op Building To Be Used Till Completion of Greenford Plant

COLUMBIANA — Apples for grading and packing have begun to arrive at the Columbiana Farm Bureau Co-Operative building at W. Railroad St. and the Pennsylvania Railroad, it has been received Monday from the orchards of Russell Huffman, RD 5, Salem and Ralph Papania, of New Waterford. Sponsored by Columbiana and Mahoning county fruit growers, the project is expected to be in full operation this week. Installation of equipment is virtually completed. The Farm Bureau has about finished moving its equipment to the Lisbon branch since its facilities for storage of 75,000 bushels of potatoes are no longer in use. Big growers have provided their own storage facilities.

HENRY ROSS of Kidron in Wayne County, plant manager, said 600 to 800 bushels of apples will be graded, packed and shipped daily under the direction of the Fruit Growers' Marketing association of Ohio to the Youngstown, Wheeling, Cleveland, Columbus and Pittsburgh areas. Grading and packing operations are expected to be carried on here for the next six months. Thirty persons employed at the peak.

Columbiana's Parent Teacher Organization will have its first meeting of the school year at Joshua Dixon School at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday. Parents will have opportunities to meet teachers of their children in the respective rooms.

Mrs. Charles Douglas, P.T.O. president, will introduce committees of the organization and the faculties of both High School and Dixon School. Waldo Schlag is program chairman for the school year.

B. Hively, board of control.

William Eadschaw was re-elected master of Midway Grange on Saturday evening in the election of officers for 1958.

Other officers elected are: Paul Smith, overseer; Raymond Cole, lecturer; Theron Caldwell, steward; Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Cope, assistant stewards; Verla Caldwell, chaplain; Lloyd Farmer, treasurer; Iona Wisler, secretary; Lester Fisher, financial secretary; A. A GRANGE FAIR is set for the hall Sept. 21, with Mr. and Mrs. Russell Forney in charge and Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Farmer assisting. Premium lists and entries will be announced later.

Ray Maurer and Terry Nash will report on the recent laymen's conference at Purdue, Ind., at the first fall dinner meeting of the Methodist Men's Club in the church dining room at 6:30 p.m. Thursday. The Rev. W. S. Longworth, pastor, will tell of his European trip in July and show pictures.

Legality of Bond Issue to Be Tested

COLUMBUS, Ohio — The Underground Parking Commission Monday filed suit in the Ohio Supreme Court to test the legality of a proposed five million dollar bond issue to finance their Statehouse parking project.

The commission asked the court to order its secretary-treasurer, Alvin J. Alexander, to publish notice of the bond sale and prepare a prospectus giving advance information to arouse interest. The commission Friday adopted a resolution approving the bond issue, to finance construction of a 1,000-car garage under the Statehouse square in Columbus.

Alexander voted against the bond resolution and balked at publication of the notice and preparation of the prospectus. His actions paved the way for the court test of the 40-year bond proposal, officials said.
